Introduction

The Foundry is a remarkable RIBA Award winning building located in Vauxhall, Central London. As a vibrant Centre for social justice and human rights organisations, it is the result of a unique partnership between Trust for London, Joseph Rowntree Charitable Trust, The Barrow Cadbury Trust, LankellyChase Foundation and The Ethical Property Company.

This beautifully renovated former factory includes 2,900m² of office space and is home to 30 social change and human rights-focused organisations working in modern, secure surroundings.

The Foundry also offers state of the art meeting spaces and facilities, ideal for hosting conferences, events, seminars and exhibitions, all in a central location. Meeting space in the Centre is available both to voluntary and private sector organisations, with discounted rates available to registered charities, CIC's and social enterprises.

See www.aplaceforchange.co.uk for more information.
